Dr. Krishan Singh

Required Persona Changes Based on Resume

1. Change the Core Positioning

Current direction:
Executive Coach & Leadership Mentor

Required direction:
Executive Coach & Leadership Mentor with 30+ Years of Enterprise Leadership Experience

His corporate career is too substantial to sit only in the credentials section.

The differentiator should be:

He has coached leadership after having lived leadership.

---

2. Bring Business Leadership Ahead of Generic HR

His resume demonstrates experience beyond conventional HR.

The positioning should reflect exposure to:

- Business leadership teams.
- Manufacturing organisations.
- Multiple plants.
- R&D environments.
- Organisational transformation.
- Industrial relations.
- Productivity improvement.
- Cost optimisation.
- International operations.
- Leadership and succession development.

Required Change

Move from:

HR Professional → Coach

to:

Enterprise People Leader → Leadership Practitioner → Executive Coach & Mentor

---

3. Strengthen Manufacturing Leadership as a Differentiator

His manufacturing-sector experience is valuable and currently underleveraged.

Add as an authority territory:

Leadership in Complex Organisations

Content can draw from:

- Manufacturing environments.
- Plant leadership.
- Industrial relations.
- Managing diverse workforces.
- Productivity.
- Change management.
- Leadership alignment.
- Business and people integration.

This separates him from coaches whose experience is primarily theoretical or consulting-led.

---

4. Add Business–HR Integration

His recognition for connecting HR metrics with business outcomes should become part of his thought-leadership positioning.

Add Content Territory

People Decisions Are Business Decisions

Topics:

- HR beyond support functions.

- Productivity versus engagement.
- Business-aligned people strategy.
- Leadership accountability.
- Workforce economics.
- Organisation design.
- Measuring people outcomes.
- HR's role in business growth.

This gives him credibility with CEOs as well as CHROs.

---

5. Strengthen Organisational Transformation

His persona currently focuses heavily on individual leadership development.

His resume supports a second level:

Individual Leader Transformation + Organisational Transformation

Add Topics

- Leading through change.
- Organisational restructuring.
- Culture transformation.
- Leadership alignment.
- Building accountability.
- Managing resistance.
- Sustainable behavioural change.
- Transformation across multiple locations.

---

6. Add Industrial Relations as a Specialist Authority

Being recognised among leading Industrial Relations professionals is a substantial differentiator.

Do not make IR the main persona.

Use it selectively to demonstrate experience in:

- Difficult conversations.
- Conflict.
- Negotiation.

- Trust.
- Employee relations.
- Stakeholder management.
- Leadership under pressure.

Strategic Connection

Industrial relations taught him how leadership behaves when conversations become difficult.

This can create excellent executive-leadership content.

---

7. Strengthen Global Leadership Experience

His India, Dubai, Thailand and South Africa exposure should not appear merely as a number.

Add Content Territory

Leading Across Contexts

Topics:

- Multicultural leadership.
- Global versus local leadership.
- Leading across different workforce cultures.
- Communication across cultures.
- Adaptability.
- What leadership principles remain universal.

This strengthens his positioning for senior and global executives.

---

8. Bring Assessment Expertise Into Coaching

His certifications in:

- MBTI.
- FIRO-B.
- 16PF.
- Belbin Team Roles.

should support his self-awareness positioning.

Required Change

Don't present these merely as certification badges.

Connect them with:

Assessment → Awareness → Reflection → Behavioural Change

This strengthens the credibility of his executive coaching methodology.

---

9. Strengthen High-Potential & Succession Leadership

His background supports stronger positioning around:

- HiPo identification.
- Leadership pipelines.
- Succession planning.
- Senior leadership development.
- Preparing leaders for larger roles.

Add a Clear Persona Territory

From Potential to Leadership

This is stronger than generic career coaching.

---

10. Reduce Generic Career Coaching

Career coaching currently risks lowering the seniority of his positioning.

Required Change

Do not remove it completely.

Reframe:

Career Coaching

as:

Leadership & Career Transitions

Focus on:

- Senior professionals.
- Expanded responsibilities.
- Leadership transitions.
- CXO readiness.
- Career inflection points.
- Purpose after senior corporate roles.

---

11. Use Awards as Evidence of Specific Expertise

Don't simply display awards.

Connect each major recognition with what it proves.

Chairman's Award

Proof: Business impact, productivity and cost transformation.

Best Business HR Award

Proof: Connecting people strategy with business outcomes.

Top 50 HR Leaders

Proof: HR transformation and leadership development.

Women Inclusion & Diversity Recognition

Proof: Inclusive leadership.

Top 25 IR Professionals

Proof: Industrial relations, trust and stakeholder management.

The principle:

Award → Capability → Leadership Insight

---

12. Expand the Leadership Content Beyond Coaching

His LinkedIn should not become a page where every post discusses coaching.

Required Content Architecture

30% — Executive Leadership & Coaching

Self-awareness, blind spots, reflection and executive effectiveness.

20% — 30+ Years of Leadership Lessons

Real lessons from corporate leadership.

15% — Business & People Strategy

Connecting people decisions with business outcomes.

15% — Organisational Transformation

Change, culture, accountability and performance.

10% — Leadership Transitions & HiPo

Succession, potential and larger responsibilities.

10% — IR, Global Leadership & Complex Conversations

Negotiation, conflict, multicultural leadership and trust.

---

13. Refine the Signature Content Properties

The Leadership Question

Executive Coach voice

Questions that make senior leaders reflect.

---

30 Years. One Lesson.

Leadership Mentor voice

Experience-backed observations from his career.

People × Business

Enterprise HR voice

Insights showing how leadership and people decisions affect commercial outcomes.

Use occasionally rather than making it the dominant series.

---

14. Change the Target Audience Hierarchy

Primary

- CXOs.
- Senior business leaders.
- Functional heads.
- CHROs and senior HR leaders.
- Leaders entering larger roles.

Secondary

- High-potential executives.
- HR professionals.
- Emerging senior leaders.
- Organisations seeking leadership development.

Reduce Focus On

Generic early-career audiences.

His experience supports a much more senior positioning.

---

15. Strengthen His Mentor Persona

The mentoring proposition should come specifically from lived experience, not generic leadership advice.

He can credibly say:

> “I have seen leadership from the boardroom, the plant floor, periods of transformation, difficult industrial conversations and multicultural environments.”

That experience should become the foundation of his mentoring voice.

Revised Persona Architecture

Executive Coach

Helps leaders see what they cannot see themselves.

↓

Leadership Mentor

Brings perspective from 30+ years of lived leadership.

↓

Business & People Strategist

Understands the connection between people decisions and business outcomes.

↓

Transformation Practitioner

Has operated through organisational complexity and change.

↓

ICF ACC

Provides structured professional coaching credibility.

Most Important Strategic Change

Do not reduce Dr. Krishan Singh's 30+ year career into:

“HR experience that supports his coaching.”

His stronger positioning is:

30+ years of enterprise leadership experience have created the perspective he now brings to executive coaching and leadership mentoring.

The coaching certification gives him the method.

His career gives him the context.

His leadership experience gives him the credibility.

That combination should become the centre of his personal brand.